to Have Support of the President.

Thave frequently said, and I say Mr. Perham announced this morning new, that I expect war with Japan that he would not make any statement Japan has 260 vessels fit to carry solof the progress he has made during diers. The United States has perhaps his visit to this city until he has sometime. Japan could carry 200,000 soldiers at one time; the United States not more than 10,000. Japan has more than a half united sailors. Japan has built 50 million trained sailors. Japan has built 50 million trained sailors. Japan has built 50 million trained sailors. million trained sailors. Japan has built 50 vessels suitable for transport purposes; the United States not one. Japan could but 100,000 men in Hawali; 250,000 in the put 190,609 men in Hawali; 250,000 in the Philippines in less than thirty days. The United States could not place 50,000 men in the Philippines in the next two years, even in time of peace, if we were compelled to employe American ships.

An Amrican citizen is not permitted to attend Japanese schools. He is not permitted to reside except in certain quarters assigned for that purpose. A short time ago these privileges were percentitizens in this country. This demand, amounting practically to an ultimatum, was promptly granted. Why? I am not divuiging any state secrets in giving these facts. All the rest of the world knows our condition. We are deceiving no one but ourselves."

About 100,000 men in Hawali; 250,000 in the function of the purpose of work were today made upon the officials of thirty-two of the leading Eastern railroads Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

As some formal action must be taken by the time the present contracts expire on January 20, it is probable the conferences between the railroad managers and their employes will begin on that date.

It is declared the average increase in pay would bring the wages of the trainmen and conductors up to the wages now paid on the railroads centering in Chicago.

President S. H. B. Perham, of the railway employes' division of the American Years of Labor, is not yet entirely discouraged in his efforts to send our soldiers to Cuba in foreign ships. We have not been able to communicate with our naval station at Samoa for the past three years except ay foreign ships. We send not only for mails, our ammunition, and our supplies, but our soldiers to the Philippines and Japanese vessels. We have naval vessels today that we cannot furnish with crews.

Philadelphia.

In spite of reports to the contrary, the Washington pollet have not been in communication with the Philadelphia authorities before today in regard to the deJanon case. The day following Miss deJanon's disappearance a dispatch was received from her grandfather Boner Buist, the millionaire seed merchant, giving a detailed description of the girl. Must Be Official.

Major Sylvester wired back that po-ction could be taken unless the mes-age came from the police. No reply was received to this dispatch.

Miss de anon, it was learned today, lived in this city with her parents from 1883 to 1889. Frederick de Janon, the father, was in the real estate business and occupied offices in F street and later in Fourteenth street. The family boarded at the Shoreham for a time and then moved to 1297 Connecticut avenue, where they remained until they left Washington.

Miss de Janon was only six remained. Miss de Janon was only six years old when the family left Wachington.
